I floated until I was unable to button my clothing; had sharp pains about the heart, smothering spells and shortness of breath. For three months I got was to lie down, and all the sleep I got was in an arm chair. I was treated by the best doctors but gradually grew worse. NAVAL PROMOTIONS

Officers to Be Advanced For Specially Meritorious Service.

CAUSES FOR COMPLAINT

In Past Promotions, It Is Hoped, Will Be Done Away With by the Present Board's Work—Sicard, Matthews and Norton Compose the Board—Other War News.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The acting secretary of the navy has appointed a board composed of officers of the highest rank to meet at the navy department to consider and report upon all cases of officers deserving of reward for specially meritorious services during the war with Spain, other than those officers whose services have been already recognized by promotion.

The board is composed of Rear Admiral Montgomery Sicard, formerly president of the naval war or strategy board; Rear Admiral Edward O. Matthews, president of the navy examining and retiring boards, and Rear Admiral Charles S. Norton, commandant of the Washington navy yard. Admiral Norton is on the retired list and Admirals Sicard and Matthews will be retired within a few months. Ensign Harry E. Smith has been assigned to duty as recorder of the board. Colonel Charles Heywood, commandant of the Marine corps, will sit as a member of the board when the cases of officers of the Marine corps are under consideration.

There has been considerable unfavorable comment in regard to promotions already made on the ground that they have really acted as a form of degradation in the case of several deserving officers who have been actually reduced in their grade through the advancement of others. It is hoped that the work of the special board just appointed will do away with all cause of complaint in the case of the officers yet to be advanced in grade or otherwise rewarded for their war services.

NAVAL MILITARIAN.

Illinois Men to Be Landed in Chicago Next Week.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Some day next week, not yet determined by the naval authorities, the Illinois naval militiamen will be landed in Chicago in a body and an opportunity will be afforded the citizens to welcome them in a becoming manner. Acting Secretary Allen, at the suggestion of Commander Hawley, has authorized the officer, with his colleague on the enlistment board, Chief Engineer Harrie Webster and Boutswain Larkin of the Maine, to gather the Illinois militiamen with all the accessible ships, place them aboard the receiving ship Vermont at the New York navy yard, and as soon as they are ready take them to Chicago. The men will be paid off in New York, but their honorable discharge will be held until they reach Chicago and the formal muster out will take place on Illinois soil. It is estimated that about 500 of the 700 Illinois men can be gathered in this way in one body. The others are out of reach at this time.

BATTLESHIP ALBANY.

Completion of the Machinery Is to Now Be Hurdled Up.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Now that hostilities are over, the United States is at liberty to receive from the British builder the fine cruiser Albany, sister ship to the New Orleans, which was one of the two acquired from Brazil just prior to the outbreak of the war. Acting Secretary Allen has ordered Passed Assistant Engineer Norton to proceed at once to Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, to supervise and inspect the completion of

"No Quarter!"

There is no sense in trifling with disease. Death is a foe ready enough to overpower poor humanity at the least opportunity without our adding anything to the deadly chances by uncertainty or inaction. Death is not the sort of an enemy to dilly-dally with, nor give the slightest quarter. He should be bayoneted to the earth with a sure and vigorous thrust.

There is just one medicine which can be counted on with absolute certainty to overcome the deadly assault of wasting disease and restore the rugged, masterly power of perfect health. The "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., creates that keen digestive and nutritive capacity, which makes healthy, nourishing red blood, and keeps it pure and alive with bounding vitality. It nourishes, vitalizes and builds up every organ and tissue in the body; tones the liver; heals the lungs; strengthens the heart; and restores complete energy and cheerfulness.

"I had been troubled for several years with spells of liver complaint," writes H. S. Dransfield, Esq., of Sweet Springs, Monroe Co., W. Va., and about two years ago my health gave way. I tried Sarsaparilla. I was getting worse all the time. I had a weakness in my left side and limbs, palpitation of the heart at times, cramping pains in the stomach after eating, nerves weak, and no energy for anything. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and began to mend from the start. I soon felt like a new person. I am now enjoying splendid health and have a splendid appetite, good digestion, and also a peaceful, quiet mind."

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," contains over two hundred reliable prescriptions, with directions for self-treatment of all such diseases as are curable without a physician. Anatomy, physiology and the laws of reproduction are explained, with over seven hundred illustrations. One copy, paper covered, sent absolutely free for 21 cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For a handsome cloth binding send 31 stamps.

the machinery of the Albany. It is expected that the ship can be completed in about four months, when she will be brought across the Atlantic by an American crew.

Weyler Speaks Out. Madrid, Aug. 31.—General Weyler, presiding last evening over the Weyler club convention, alluded to the "disasters Spain has suffered and must retrieve." He complained that the press censorship would "prevent the fixing of the responsibility, which politicians are trying to throw on the army and navy." He promised that he would speak plainly and place himself forthwith "at the head of the people in their struggle for the salvation of the country."

Resumption of Mail Service.

Washington, Aug. 31.—An order has been issued directing the resumption of contract mail service on Monday next between Tampa, Fla., and Havana, via Key West. The vessel on this line had been during hostilities making trips to Key West three times a week. The service to Key West and Havana for the present will be semi-weekly.

Some Surgeons Are Humane.

Fernandina, Fla., Aug. 31.—The hospital ship Olivette still remains at the quarantine station. It is doubtful whether she will carry many sick away, for surgeons here seriously object to having their patients moved. Some flatly say they will allow only convalescents to go. They also assert there is not a trained nurse on the ship.

Filipino Bermuda Sold.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 31.—The case of the Cuban filibuster steamer Bermuda has been closed with the sale of the vessel intact, lying as she is at the port entrance, for $12,000 to a shipping firm of this city, in behalf of her Boston owners.

NATIONAL GUARD.

Major Webb C. Hayes' Plan For Its Reorganization.

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Major Webb C. Hayes, son of the late President Hayes, who is said to be the only volunteer officer that served in both the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns and who is accompanying President McKinley on his present trip, has proposed a plan to the chief executive looking toward the reorganization of the national guard under military law. This plan provides that the president appoint an adjutant general for each state; that as many bodies of militia shall be raised in each state as circumstances require, and that all officers of such militia shall be nominated by the governors of the various states.

They would then be under the direct control of the national government, and much of the difficulty experienced when the guard was called into service for the Spanish war would be obviated. Mr. Hayes said he disliked to discuss the matter now, for the plan was still in an embryonic state, and he did not like to go on record until some of the details are worked out.

ARE NOT DEAD.

Minnesota Soldiers Reported Killed at Manila Are Alive.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—The announcement of the promotions for gallant service at the battle of Manila, including Captains Bjornstad and Seabach of the Thirtieth Minnesota volunteers, who were given in some reports as among the dead. Inquiry at the war department developed the fact that no reports of such deaths had been received. Governor Clough therefore cabled to Colonel Reeve of the Thirtieth and has just received the following reply: "Seabach, Bjornstad, Carlton, Williams and Cronell nearly well. Little improving. Bunker and Lawrence of Company C and Leebman very sick."

Captain Seabach's home is at Red Wing and word was immediately sent there, as his wife has been in a critical condition since word was received of his supposed death. Captain Bjornstad is of St. Paul and, with Captain Seabach, was breveted major of volunteers for gallant service.

STRANGE STORY.

Regarding the Death of Quartermaster George Franks.

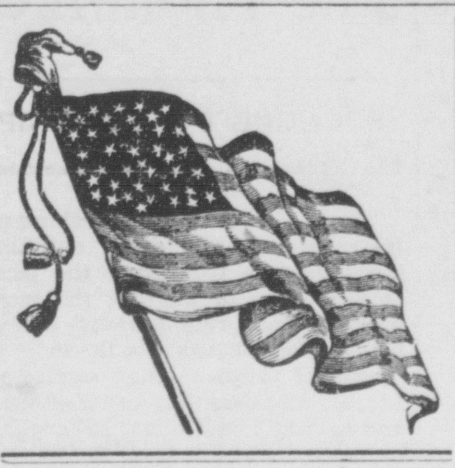

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 31.—Soldiers passing through Altoona tell a strange story regarding the death of Quartermaster George B. Franks of Company G, Twelfth New York regiment. The regiment is encamped at Chattanooga. Because of the death of three hospital patients after drinking milk sold by negroes living in the neighborhood of the quartermaster of Company G would not allow the negroes to sell anything to his company. Friday night a gang of negroes caught Frank outside of the camp grounds and after beating him nearly to death threw him under a passing railroad train. Since then the guards have been ordered to shoot any negro who attempts to pass the camp lines.

Report of a Surgeon.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The surgeon in charge of the hospital at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, reports to the surgeon general that the 600 patients there are being well cared for. He has 71 female nurses and plenty of ice, milk and other things and a fund of $2,000 to expend for anything that may be needed. Any reports of starving, he says, must have come from some typhoid convalescent, who was not allowed all he wanted to eat by surgeon's orders, so as to prevent a severe relapse.

Relieved From Duty.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Commodore Rush R. Wallace, retired, has been relieved from further duty as a member of the lighthouse board and ordered home. His place on the board has been taken by Captain J. J. Higginson, formerly commanding the battleship Massachusetts and now president of the special board considering the question of the disposition of the vessels composing the auxiliary fleet.

Surgeon Duncan's Case.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Counsel for Surgeon L. C. Duncan of the Twenty-second Kansas, have made application to the judicial authorities at Fairfax, Va., for the release of their client on bail, but this will not be finally passed upon until official advice is received of the court martial trial. Duncan's trial by the state authorities is set for Sept. 19.

Sagasta Criticized.

Havana, Aug. 31.—Lauchan, commenting editorially upon Senor Sagasta's intention to prevent the critics discussing the incidents and results of the war and to forbid the press to publish the parliamentary debates, criticizes this attitude strongly and condemns Sagasta's "autocracy and absolutism."

Will Obey the Order.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 31.—The North Carolina Railroad commission has decided that the Southern Express company shall pay the war stamp tax on all packages. The order goes into effect Sept. 15th, and the penalty for failure to comply was fixed at $50. It is said that the company will obey the order.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK

All Regiments Will Not Get Away Before Middle of Next Week.

MANY ARE UNDER ORDERS

But a Hitch in Transportation Arrangements Detain Troops Here—Twenty-Eighth Indiana Battery Ready to Leave This Camp—Governor Black of New York Here.

Chickamauga, Ga., Aug. 31.—Owing to a hitch in the transportation arrangements no regiments left the park yesterday. The Second Nebraska expected to move today, but they will not get away before tomorrow; the First Missouri was also under orders to move today, but they will not get away until after the Second Nebraska. The orders for the Eighth New York to proceed to Hemstead to be mustered out were modified and the regiment was ordered to New York city to be mustered out at their armory there. At the present rate of movement it will be the middle of next week before all the regiments left here get away.

The batteries of artillery have completed the transfer of all arms and equipments to the mustering office and as soon as the rolls are completed these batteries (seven in number) four from Ohio, the Twenty-eighth from Indiana and A and B of Georgia, will be ready to return to their homes to be mustered out.

Colonel Grigsby's rough riders, the Third United States volunteer cavalry, turned over their stock and will load at Lytle for their homes just as soon as the transportation can be had.

Governor Black of New York yesterday visited Chickamauga park in company with Dr. Alva H. Doty, health officer of the port of New York city, and Colonel Treadway, his secretary. He visited the camp of the Eighth, Ninth and Fourteenth New York regiments and carefully inspected each. He also visited the division and Sternberg hospitals, returning to the city last night.

Matter Is Exaggerated.

Chattanooga, Aug. 31.—Governor Black was seen by a reporter and was asked as to the conditions as he found them in the camps of the New York regiments, as well as those at division hospitals. Governor Black said there appeared to be "a perfect hydrophobia" among newspapers over the condition of the soldiers; that the press bristled with such phrases as "hollow eyed" and "starving" in articles descriptive of the troops. He gave it as his opinion that the matter was exaggerated, "manufactured in newspaper offices," and the outcome and result of "journalistic knavery."

TELEGRAPH SERVICE.

Porto Rican Lines May Be Sold to Private Enterprises.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The war department received advices from Porto Rico on the work being done by the little army of signal service men on the island. There are 200 of these men now there and they will have to assume the control and operation of the government lines of telegraph.

The lines are now, of course, operated by the Spaniards, but when the possession of the islands is transferred to the United States the signal service will have to take charge until the future status of the system is determined. This government has always been opposed to a government telegraph system, and signal service officials say it is not probable that the lines on the new island possession will be eventually sold to private enterprises through bids for its purchase.

Merritt's Last Official Act.

London, Aug. 31.—The Manila correspondent of The Times says: "General Wesley Merritt's last official act before leaving was to sign a permission for the insurgents to send an emissary to represent them at the proceedings of the Paris grand commission. General Aguinaldo has sent an agent to Hong-Kong to inform Felipe Agoncillo, the insurgent leader, of his appointment for this duty. General Whittier succeeds General Greene as intendant."

CONVENTION CALL.

Whereas a majority of the democratic voters of Jackson county have repudiated a so called democratic primary election and the nominees of said primary election, which was in its rules and regulations governing said primary, so unfair, unjust and undemocratic that more than three-fourths of the democratic voters of the county refused to recognize the said primary or participate in said primary election, and

Whereas the republican county central committee at a regular and full meeting of the committee, held in Seymour on the 18th day of August, 1898, declared themselves as willing to affiliate with all voters of Jackson county who were opposed to the so called democratic ticket and appointed a committee of five members of their county committee to confer and arrange with a like committee of five democrats, as to time, manner, etc., of holding a convention of the independent voters of Jackson county, therefore be it resolved by this joint committee of five democrats and five republicans:

1.—That a delegate convention of the voters who desire to act independently be held at Seymour, Ind., on Saturday the 17th day of Sept., 1898, at one o'clock p. m.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR CLERK.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk on the fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

The nominees on that democrat ticket nominated in a primary by one-eight of the voters of the county are troubled and they have reasons to be.

Dows in Georgia the Democratic candidate for governor says free silver is not a cardinal doctrine of the democratic party. He is probably not a Bryan man, or will not be in 1900.

By his peace proposition the Czar of Russia has given diplomats throughout the world something to talk about, even though his proposition may seem unpracticable to many.

The "Yellow" newspapers began their part of the war with Spain early and are still at it. Hostilities has not ceased with them, and no one expects them to be pleased or satisfied.

The Southern Indiana Press Association will meet in semi-annual session at Vincennes, October 6. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of all visitors and a good program arranged, full details of which will be announced later.

The republicans of Jackson county have an efficient central committee, composed of active republicans from all parts of the county. The party has confidence in the wisdom of this committee and will labor earnestly to carry out the work of the campaign as this committee may direct. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our packtrain before we left Tampa and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

SPEAKING PASSING SHIPS.

New Efforts to Revive Old Time Courts at Sea.

The fine old custom of speaking passing ships is rapidly dying out among the skippers of today, and the general opinion seems to be that the modern master is, as a rule, too easy going to bother about anything of the sort.

Colonel Hozier, the secretary of Lloyds, considers that a deal of trouble and anxiety would often be avoided if captains would but take the trouble to speak ships within reading distance of their signals. In many instances anxiety with respect to overdue vessels would be allayed, and, furthermore, there would continually be news for the friends of masters and for the hundreds of thousands of others who are interested in the great merchant marine of this country.

Chatting the matter over, Captain Froud, the secretary of the Shipmasters' society, said: "The practice of speaking each other at sea and reporting at every opportunity is, I am sorry to say, dying out among the captains of the present day. I suppose they are indifferent, or careless, and do not consider it worth the trouble of hoisting the signals and making out the other fellow's. It is a very great pity that an exceedingly useful custom should be neglected, and I am glad to learn that Colonel Hozier is doing his utmost to induce masters to speak other ships and to report whenever it is possible."

"I am convinced that if captains can be persuaded to take the trouble to do this much good service will be rendered to the public generally. This society is doing its utmost to get masters to revive the practice."

Captain Froud's appeal was strengthened by the picturesque evidence of an old time skipper, who admitted that speaking and signaling had been almost entirely neglected of late years. "When I first went to sea," he said, "it was the invariable custom to exchange names and destinations and sometimes reckonings with passing ships, but nowadays captains don't bother. Sometimes a skipper is short handed and he won't take even one man from his work, but mostly he doesn't bother himself about the thing at all. That's my experience, and I've been at the game a week or two."—London Mail.

THE CARE FREE VIENNESE.

They Rarely Take Life Seriously Unless at a Funeral.

"The native Viennese is a jolly, good natured, shiftless creature," writes Edward A. Steiner, discussing "Austria and Her Troubles" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"No people on the earth are so jolly or so easily and so much amused. Go to the Prater, the largest public park in Europe, and from 100 different beer gardens comes the noise of tooting brass bands and stamping feet and beating drums. Merry go rounds swing old and young, and dime museums and music halls are as full of people as they are empty of decency. Go to the theaters on any night and you will find them crowded by an enthusiastic audience, the galleries filled by noisy students and working girls. The court theaters, which present only legitimate dramas and operas, have also their numerous devotees. Go to the coffee houses, of which there is one on every corner, and you will find them full, especially in the afternoon, with merchants and clerks sipping their Mocha and officers smoking their cigars and one putting and card shuffling youths. At night these coffee houses become the rendezvous of the lower element. I have never seen the Viennese serious, unless it be at a funeral, and I suppose that even out of that he manages to get some fun. Yet he is easily excited, and although loyal and law abiding his good nature may quickly turn into a fiery passion, and a Viennese riot is a serious matter for the police."

THE DREADED BACK DRAFT.

One of the Worst Perils That Confront the Firemen.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Perils of a Fireman's Life," by Charles T. Hill, who has written several articles on the New York fire department for this magazine. Mr. Hill says:

Next to a dangerous cellar fire nothing is more dreaded by the men than what is known in their own language as the "back draft." This is a sudden veering of the flames, usually caused by the burning away of some portion of the building that gives the fire renewed draft and changes its course completely.

The firemen arrive and find the whole second or third floor of a building in flames. Axes in hand, they smash open the doors, and with the hose dash up the stairway. This is all afire, and the flames are rolling above like a red pall. With the engine at work and good pressure on the line, the battle between the two elements, fire and water, begins. Inch by inch the men fight their way up the stairway, now to retreat as the fire gains upon them and now to advance as it rolls away for a moment. The encouraging words of the commanding officer are heard behind them urging them on: "Now, get in, boys! That's it—get in—got in! Make the next landing! Hit it up, boys!" and all the other words of encouragement that he usually gives.

They finally reach the landing. They are on the floor with the fire. It rolls away from them. They drive it farther back. Encouraged by their seeming victory, they drag up more of the heavy hose to make a final dash at it, when suddenly something falls in at the rear of the fire that gives it renewed draft. It rolls toward them, an impenetrable wall of fire—the deadly back draft! Their only chance of escape is to throw themselves upon their faces, in hope that it may roll over them, or to hurl themselves down the stairs up which they have so gallantly fought their way. Better a broken leg or arm than death by roasting, and the water of 80 engines could never stay the progress of that awful wave of flame.

Many a brave fellow has lost his life in this manner, and very often all the members of a company return with their eyebrows, hair and beard singed off, bearing evidence that they have been "ketch'd," as they express it, by a less terrible form of this deadly draft.

VILLAGE ODDITIES.

English Towns Distinguished For Being One of a Kind.

Undoubtedly the most extraordinary township in England is that of Skiddaw, in Cumberland. It contains but one house, the occupier of which is unable to exercise the Briton's privilege of voting because there is no quorum of voters' list and no church or other place of worship or assembly on which to hold a poll.

The most remote village in England is that of Farley-cum-Piton. This truly rural spot is 30½ miles from the nearest railway station. As a contrast to this may be mentioned the hamlet of Ystrad, about 10 miles from Cardiff. This tiny settlement possesses two important main roads, two railways and two large rivers.

A very unique feature is exclusively claimed by Trimley, a small village in Suffolk. In the one churchyard of the parish two churches are to be seen. Service is conducted three times a week in each of these churches at the same hour.

The deepest well in England is found at Hamilton, in Hampshire. It stretches 350 feet below the surface of the earth. About half way down this well shaft is a subway, three miles in length, which leads to the seacoast.

On the top of the parish church tower in Bicknoller, Somersetshire, is a yew tree, now five feet high and still growing in a hardy fashion. It is generally believed that the tree owes its origin to a seed dropped by a bird.

Perhaps the most splendidly decorated church in the kingdom is that of Whitley Court, Worcestershire. It is entirely constructed of white marble, the pews are chaste carved, and the pulpit is of genuine Carrara marble, richly paneled with precious stones.

On the village green at Meriden, in Warwickshire, there is a large stone cross which is supposed to mark the central point of England.—Penton's Magazine.

A Peculiar Feeling.

The sensation of homesickness has been variously described, but never more graphically than by a little girl who, miles away from home and mamma, sat heavy eyed and silent at a hotel table.

"Aren't you hungry, dear?" asked her aunt, with whom she was traveling.

"No."

"Does your head ache?"

"No."

"What is the matter?"

The child's lip quivered, and she said in a tone of grievous heart:

"I'm sen sick for home."—National Farmer.

The Fat Man

Whose healthy plumpness stands out unpleasantly in ready made garments, too tight here, too loose there, can be made to look much slimmer if he has his clothes made especially for him. The same thing applies to the short man and the lean man. It may seem a small matter, but it makes a great deal of difference in a man's appearance whether his clothes were made for him or whether they were made to fit the average. If he's the average—the fit him—if he's not, they don't.

THE CARE FREE VIENNESE.

They Barely Take Life Seriously Unless at a Funeral.

"The native Viennese is a jolly, good natured, shiftless creature," writes Edward A. Steiner, discussing "Austria and Her Troubles" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"No people on the earth are so jolly or so easily and so much amused, Go to the Prater, the largest public park in Europe, and from 100 different beer gardens comes the noise of tooting brass bands and stamping feet and beating drums. Merry go rounds swing old and young, and dime museums and music halls are as full of people as they are empty of decency. Go to the theaters on any night and you will find them crowded by an enthusiastic audience, the galleries filled by noisy students and working girls. The court theaters, which present only legitimate dramas and operas, have also their numerous devotees. Go to the coffee houses, of which there is one on every corner, and you will find them full, especially in the afternoon, with merchants with their noses in the newspapers and clerks sipping their Mocha and officers smoking their cigars and one pushing and card shuffling youths. At night these coffee houses become the rendezvous of the lower element. I have never seen the Viennese serious, unless it be at a funeral, and I suppose that even out of that he manages to get some fun. Yet he is easily excited, and although loyal and law abiding his good nature may quickly turn into a fiery passion, and a Viennese riot is a serious matter for the police."

Tosca as a Secretary.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Ernest Tosca, who has been connected with the Hayana consulate for six years, and who was General Lee's secretary for three years, has been designated to go to Havana with the Cuban military commission as one of its secretaries.

The Real Difficulty.

"The trouble with you," said Mr. Rutledge's wife, after a warm debate, "is that you are a confirmed dyspeptic."

"No, my dear," was the answer. "That's not correct. The trouble with me is that I am a contradicted dyspeptic."—Washington Star.

Your Chance to Visit Potoskey and Mackinac Island.

THE DREADED BACK DRAFT.

One of the Worst Perils That Confront the Fireman.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Perils of a Fireman's Life," by Charles T. Hill, who has written several articles on the New York fire department for this magazine. Mr. Hill says:

Next to a dangerous cellar fire nothing is more dreaded by the men than what is known in their own language as the "back draft." This is a sudden veering of the flames, usually caused by the burning away of some portion of the building that gives the fire renewed draft and changes its course completely.

The firemen arrive and find the whole second or third floor of a building in flames. Axes in hand, they smash open the doors, and with the hose dash up the stairway. This is all afire, and the flames are rolling above like a red pall. With the engine at work and good pressure on the line, the battle between the two elements, fire and water, begins. Inch by inch the men fight their way up the stairway, now to retreat as the fire gains upon them and now to advance as it rolls away for a moment. The encouraging words of the commanding officer are heard behind them urging them on: "Now, get in, boys! That's it—get in—get in! Make the next landing! Hit it up, boys!" and all the other words of encouragement that he usually gives.

They finally reach the landing. They are on the floor with the fire. It rolls away from them. They drive it farther back. Encouraged by their seeming victory, they drag up more of the heavy hose to make a final dash at it, when suddenly something falls in at the rear of the fire that gives it renewed draft. It rolls toward them, an impenetrable wall of fire—the deadly back draft! Their only chance of escape is to throw themselves upon their faces, in hope that it may roll over them, or to hurl themselves down the stairs upon which they have so gallantly fought their way. Better a broken leg or arm than death by roasting, and the water of 50 engines could never stay the progress of that awful wave of flame.

Many a brave fellow has lost his life in this manner, and very often all the members of a company return with their eyebrows, hair and beard singed off, bearing evidence that they have been "ketch'd," as they express it, by a less terrible form of this deadly draft.

VILLAGE ODITIES.

English Towns Distinguished For Being One of a Kind.

Undoubtedly the most extraordinary township in England is that of Skidlaw, in Cumberland. It contains but one house, the occupier of which is unable to exercise the Briton's privilege of voting because there is no church or other place of worship or assembly on which to place a vote.

The most remote village in England is that of Farley-cum-Piton. This truly rural spot is 39½ miles from the nearest railway station. As a contrast to this may be mentioned the hamlet of Ystrad, about 10 miles from Cardiff. This tiny settlement possesses two important main roads, two railways and two large rivers.

A very unique feature is exclusively claimed by Trimley, a small village in Suffolk. In the one churchyard of the parish two churches are to be seen. Service is conducted three times a week in each of these churches at the same hour.

The deepest well in England is found at Hamilton, in Hampshire. It stretches 350 feet below the surface of the earth. About half way down this well shaft is a subway, three miles in length, which leads to the seacoast.

On the top of the parish church tower in Bicknoller, Somersetshire, is a yew tree, now five feet high and still growing in a hardy fashion. It is generally believed that the tree owes its origin to a seed dropped by a bird.

Perhaps the most splendidly decorated church in the kingdom is that of Whitley Court, Worcestershire. It is entirely constructed of white marble, the pews are chastely carved, and the pulpit is of genuine Carrara marble, richly paneled with precious stones.

On the village green at Meriden, in Warwickshire, there is a large stone cross which is supposed to mark the central point of England.—Pearson's Magazine.

A Peculiar Feeling.

The sensation of homesickness has been variously described, but never more graphically than by a little girl who, miles away from home and mamma, sat heavy eyed and silent at a hotel table. "Aren't you hungry, dear?" asked her aunt, with whom she was traveling.

"No."

"Does your head ache?"

"No."

"What is the matter?"

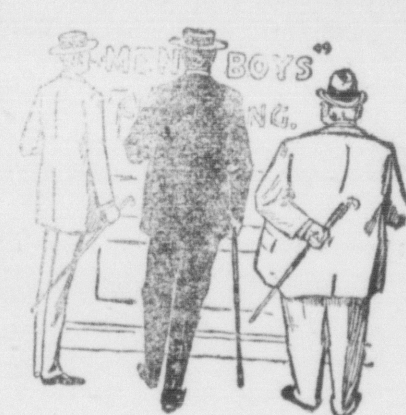

The child's lip quivered, and she said in a tone to grieve the heart:

"I'm seasick for home."—National Farmer.

Harbor Mistress Fuller.

Miss Fuller, a newspaper woman, has lately been appointed harbor mistress of Tacoma, Wash. It is said that thus far she has done remarkably good work, keeping all records pertaining to the extensive shipping business of the city in perfect shape. Last month she made out the harbor master's report for the year, the first report of the kind ever made out by an American woman.

The Fat Man

Whose healthy plumpness stands out unpleasantly in ready made garments, too tight here, too loose there, can be made to look much slimmer if he has his clothes made especially for him. The same thing applies to the short man and the lean man. It may seem a small matter, but it makes a great deal of difference in a man's appearance whether his clothes were made for him or whether they were made to fit the average. If he's the average—the fit him—if he's not, they don't.

Miraculous Benefit RECEIVED FROM
Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

ELI P. BABCOCK, of Avoca, N. Y., a veteran of the 3rd N. Y. Artillery and for thirty years of the Babcock & Munsell Carriage Co., of Auburn, says: "I write to express my gratitude for the miraculous benefit received from Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I suffered for years, as result of army life, from catarrh which affected my heart in the worst form, my limbs swelled from the ankles up. I floated until I was unable to button my clothing; had sharp pains about the heart, smothering spells and shortness of breath. For three months I was unable to lie down, and all the sleep I got was in an arm chair. I was treated by the best doctors but gradually grew worse. About a year ago I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and it saved my life as if by a miracle."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, five bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

NAVAL PROMOTIONS

Officers to Be Advanced
For Specially Meritorious Service.

CAUSES FOR COMPLAINT

In Past Promotions, It Is Hoped, Will Be Done Away With by the Present
Board's Work—Sicard, Matthews and Norton Compose the Board—Other War
Navies.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The acting secretary of the navy has appointed a board composed of officers of the highest rank to meet at the navy department to consider and report upon all cases of officers deserving of reward for specially meritorious services during the war with Spain, other than those officers whose services have been already recognized by promotion.

The board is composed of Rear Admiral Montgomery Sicard, formerly president of the naval war or strategy board; Rear Admiral Edward O. Matthews, president of the navy examining and retiring boards, and Rear Admiral Charles S. Norton, commandant of the Washington navy yard. Admiral Norton is on the retired list and Admirals Sicard and Matthews will be retired within a few months. Ensign Harry E. Smith has been assigned to duty as recorder of the board. Colonel Charles Heywood, commandant of the Marine corps, will sit as a member of the board when the cases of officers of the Marine corps are under consideration.

There has been considerable unfavorable comment in regard to promotions already made on the ground that they have really acted as a form of degradation in the case of several deserving officers who have been actually reduced in their grade through the advancement of others. It is hoped that the work of the special board just appointed will do away with all cause of complaint in the case of the officers yet to be advanced in grade or otherwise rewarded for their war services.

NAVAL MILITIAMEN.

Illinois Men to Be Landed in Chicago
Next Week.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Some day next week, not yet determined by the naval authorities, the Illinois naval militiamen will be landed in Chicago in a body and an opportunity will be afforded the citizens to welcome them in a becoming manner. Acting Secretary Allen, at the suggestion of Commander Hawley, has authorized the officer, with his colleague on the enlistment board, Chief Engineer Harrie Webster and Boatwain Larkin of the Maine, to gather the Illinois militiamen with all the accessible ships, place them aboard the receiving ship Vermont at the New York navy yard, and as soon as they are ready take them to Chicago. The men will be paid off in New York, but their honorable discharge will be held until they reach Chicago and the formal muster out will take place on Illinois soil. It is estimated that about 500 of the 700 Illinois men can be gathered in this way in one body. The others are out of reach at this time.

BATTLESHIP ALBANY.

Completion of the Machinery Is to Now
Be Hurdled Up.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Now that hostilities are over, the United States is at liberty to receive from the British builders the fine cruiser Albany, sister ship to the New Orleans, which was one of the two acquired from Brazil just prior to the outbreak of the war. Acting Secretary Allen has ordered Passed Assistant Engineer Norton to proceed at once to Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, to supervise and inspect the completion of the machinery of the Albany. It is expected that the ship can be completed in about four months, when she will be brought across the Atlantic by an American crew.

Weyler Speaks Out.

Madrid, Aug. 31.—General Weyler, presiding last evening over the Weyler club convention, alluded to the "disasters Spain has suffered and must retrieve." He complained that the press censorship would "prevent the fixing of the responsibility, which politicians are trying to throw on the army and navy." He promised that he would speak plainly and place himself forthwith "at the head of the people in their struggle for the salvation of the country."

Resumption of Mail Service.

Washington, Aug. 31.—An order has been issued directing the resumption of contract mail service on Monday next between Tampa, Fla., and Havana, via Key West. The vessel on this line had been during hostilities making trips to Key West three times a week. The service to Key West and Havana for the present will be semi-weekly.

Some Surgeons Are Humane.

Fernandina, Fla., Aug. 31.—The hospital ship Olivette still remains at the quarantine station. It is doubtful whether she will carry many sickaway, for surgeons here seriously object to having their patients moved. Some flatly say they will allow only convalescents to go. They also assert there is not a trained nurse on the ship.

Fillmore Bermuda Sold.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 31.—The case of the Cuban filibuster steamer Bermuda has been closed with the sale of the vessel intact, lying as she is at the port entrance, for $12,000 to a shipping firm of this city, in behalf of her Boston owners.

NATIONAL GUARD.

Major Webb C. Hayes' Plan For Its Reorganization.

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Major Webb C. Hayes, son of the late President Hayes, who is said to be the only volunteer officer that served in both the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns and who is accompanying President McKinley on his present trip, has proposed a plan to the chief executive looking toward the reorganization of the national guard under military law. This plan provides that the president appoint an adjutant general for each state; that as many bodies of militia shall be raised in each state as circumstances require, and that all officers of such militia shall be nominated by the governors of the various states.

They would then be under the direct control of the national government, and much of the difficulty experienced when the guard was called into service for the Spanish war would be obviated.

Mr. Hayes said he disliked to discuss the matter now, for the plan was still in an embryonic state, and he did not like to go on record until some of the details are worked out.

ARE NOT DEAD.

Minnesota Soldiers Reported Killed at Manila Are Alive.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—The announcement of the promotions for gallant service at the battle of Manila, including Captains Bjornstad and Seebach of the Thirtieth Minnesota volunteers, who were given in some reports as among the dead. Inquiry at the war department developed the fact that no reports of such deaths had been received. Governor Clough therefore cabled to Colonel Reeve of the Thirtieth and has just received the following reply:

"Seebach, Bjornstad, Carlton, Williams and Cronell nearly well. Little improving. Banker and Lawrence of Company C and Leehman very sick."

Captain Seebach's home is at Red Wing and word was immediately sent there, as his wife has been in a critical condition since word was received of his supposed death. Captain Bjornstad is of St. Paul, and with Captain Seebach, was breveted major of volunteers for gallant service.

STRANGE STORY.

Regarding the Death of Quartermaster
George Franks.

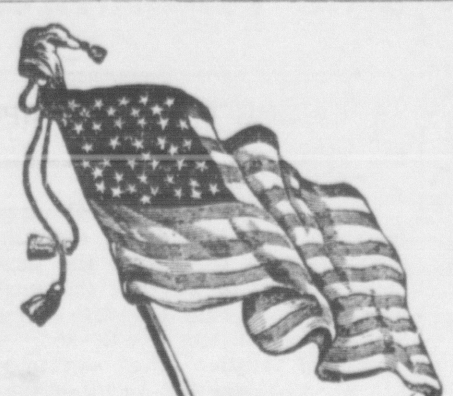

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 31.—Soldiers passing through Altoona tell a strange story regarding the death of Quartermaster George B. Franks of Company G, Twelfth New York regiment. The regiment is encamped at Chattanooga. Because of the death of three hospital patients after drinking milk sold by negroes living in the neighborhood of the quartermaster of Company G would not allow the negroes to sell anything to his company. Friday night a gang of negroes caught Frank outside of the camp grounds and after beating him nearly to death threw him under a passing railroad train. Since then the guards have been ordered to shoot any negro who attempts to pass the camp lines.

Report of a Surgeon.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The surgeon in charge of the hospital at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, reports to the surgeon general that the 600 patients there are being well cared for. He has 71 female nurses and plenty of ice, milk and other things and a fund of $2,000 to expend for anything that may be needed. Any reports of starving, he says, must have come from some typhoid convalescent, who was not allowed all he wanted to eat by surgeon's orders, so as to prevent a severe relapse.

Relieved From Duty.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Commodore Rush R. Wallace, retired, has been relieved from further duty as a member of the lighthouse board and ordered home. His place on the board has been taken by Captain J. J. Higginson, formerly commanding the battleship Massachusetts and now president of the special board considering the question of the disposition of the vessels composing the auxiliary fleet.

Surgeon Duncan's Case.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Counsel for Surgeon L. C. Duncan of the Twenty-second Kansas, have made application to the judicial authorities at Fairfax, Va., for the release of their client on bail, but this will not be finally passed upon until official advice is received of the court martial trial. Duncan's trial by the state authorities is set for Sept. 19.

Sagasta Criticized.

Havana, Aug. 31.—LaLuchan, commenting editorially upon Senor Sagasta's intention to prevent the cortes discussing the incidents and results of the war and to forbid the press to publish the parliamentary debates, criticizes this attitude strongly and condemns Sagasta's "autocracy and absolutism."

Will Obey the Order.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 31.—The North Carolina Railroad commission has decided that the Southern Express company shall pay the war stamp tax on all packages. The order goes into effect Sept. 15th, and the penalty for failure to comply was fixed at $50. It is said that the company will obey the order.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK

All Regiments Will Not Get Away Before Middle of Next Week.

MANY ARE UNDER ORDERS

Chickamauga, Ga., Aug. 31.—Owing to a hitch in the transportation arrangements no regiments left the park yesterday. The Second Nebraska expected to move today, but they will not get away before tomorrow; the First Missouri was also under orders to move today, but they will not get away until after the Second Nebraska. The orders for the Eighth New York to proceed to Hemstead to be mustered out were modified and the regiment was ordered to New York city to be mustered out at their armory there. At the present rate of movement it will be the middle of next week before all the regiments left here get away.

The batteries of artillery have completed the transfer of all arms and equipments to the mustering office and as soon as the rolls are completed these batteries (seven in number) four from Ohio, the Twenty-eighth from Indiana and A and B of Georgia, will be ready to return to their homes to be mustered out.

Colonel Grigsby's rough riders, the Third United States volunteer cavalry, turned over their stock and will load at Lytle for their homes just as soon as the transportation can be had.

Governor Black of New York yesterday visited Chickamauga park in company with Dr. Alva H. Doty, health officer of the port of New York city, and Colonel Trayward, his secretary. He visited the camp of the Eighth, Ninth and Fourteenth New York regiments and carefully inspected each. He also visited the division and Sternberg hospital, returning to the city last night.

Matter Is Exaggerated.

Chattanooga, Aug. 31.—Governor Black was seen by a reporter and was asked as to the conditions as he found them in the camps of the New York regiments, as well as those at division hospitals. Governor Black said there appeared to be "a perfect hydrophobia" among newspapers over the condition of the soldiers; that the press bristled with such phrases as "hollow victory" and "starving" in articles descriptive of the troops. He gave it as his opinion that the matter was exaggerated, "manufactured in newspaper offices," and the outcome and result of "journalistic knavery."

TELEGRAPH SERVICE.

Porto Rican Lines May Be Sold to Private Enterprises.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The war department received advices from Porto Rico on the work being done by the little army of signal service men on the island. There are 300 of these men now there and they will have to assume the control and operation of the government lines of telegraph.

The lines are now, of course, operated by the Spaniards, but when the possession of the islands is transferred to the United States the signal service will have to take charge until the future status of the system is determined. This government has always been opposed to a government telegraph system, and signal service officials say it is not probable that the lines on the new island possession will be eventually sold to private enterprises through bids for its purchase.

Merritt's Last Official Act.

London, Aug. 31.—The Manila correspondent of The Times says: "General Wesley Merritt's last official act before leaving was to sign a permission for the insurgents to send an emissary to represent them at the proceedings of the Paris grand commission. General Aguinaldo has sent an agent to Hong Kong to inform Felipe Agoncillo, the insurgent leader, of his appointment for this duty. General Whittier succeeds General Greene as intendant."

Another Death.

Washington, Aug. 31.—A dispatch from Surgeon Borden at Montauk to the surgeon general denies the report that the sick on the San Marcos had had no bedding except blankets. He says all the sick had mattresses, pillows and blankets.

Words of Praise For the American Ambassador to England.

London, Aug. 31.—The National Review referring to the recall of the United States ambassador, Colonel John Hay, to become secretary of state, says it considers Colonel Hay to be the best ambassador accredited here in recent years, adding:

"He has spoken well, but not too often; he has abstained from being more British than the British; he has refrained from fulsome flattery, nor has he indulged in post-prandial gush; but he has missed no fair opportunity of promoting friendly Anglo-American relations and has been emphatically the right man at the psychological moment."

The National Review suggests Senator Wolcott as Colonel Hay's successor.

by Drowning.

Ponce, Puerto Rico, Aug. 31.—While coming to Ponce, B. M. Brooks of Company K, First Kentucky volunteers, was swept away by the current as he was crossing a ford, and, in spite of efforts to save him, was drowned. Two Puerto Ricans, who saw the accident and realized Brooks's danger, hurried to his assistance. They plunged into the stream and bravely tried to reach the struggling Kentuckian. The current was too strong for them, however, and they also were overwhelmed and drowned.

Overthrow Looked For.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The state department has not yet been officially advised of the reported death of King Miliotes of Samoa, and in all likelihood must remain in official ignorance of the event for some time to come, owing to the slow means of communication at the disposal of the department. It is the general impression here that the death of the king will result in the overthrow of the present form of government of the island, maintained as it is by the joint action of the United States, Great Britain and Germany.

CONVENTION CALL.

Whereas a majority of the democratic voters of Jackson county have repudiated a so called democratic primary election and the nominees of said primary election, which was in its rules and regulations governing said primary, so unfair, unjust and undemocratic that more than three-fourths of the democratic voters of the county refused to recognize the said primary or participate in said primary election, and

Whereas the republican county central committee at a regular and full meeting of the committee, held in Seymour on the 18th day of August, 1898, declared themselves as willing to affiliate with all voters of Jackson county who were opposed to the so called democratic ticket and appointed a committee of five members of their county committee to confer and arrange with a like committee of five democrats, as to time, manner, etc., of holding a convention of the independent voters of Jackson county, therefore be it resolved by this joint committee of five democrats and five republicans:

FOR CLERK.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk on this fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

The nominees on that democrat ticket nominated in a primary by one-eight of the voters of the county are troubled and they have reasons to be.

Downs in Georgia the Democratic candidate for governor says free silver is not a cardinal doctrine of the democratic party. He is probably not a Bryan man, or will not be in 1900.

By his peace proposition the Czar of Russia has given diplomats throughout the world something to talk about, even though his proposition may seem unpracticable to many.

The "Yellow" newspapers began their part of the war with Spain early and are still at it. Hostilities has not ceased with them, and no one expects them to be pleased or satisfied.

The Southern Indiana Press Association will meet in semi-annual session at Vincennes, October 6. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of all visitors and a good program arranged, full details of which will be announced later.

The republicans of Jackson county have an efficient central committee, composed of active republicans from all parts of the county. The party has confidence in the wisdom of this committee and will labor earnestly to carry out the work of the campaign as this committee may direct. Though fusion with independent democrats of the county has been agreed upon, the republican organization of the county remains unchanged. Our committee will have an abundance of work to do until the campaign is over. The interests of the state ticket, the congressional ticket, the judicial ticket and all the duties required by the state committee, will furnish much work for our county central committee, all of which will be properly and promptly done.

We Stand Corrected.

The Seymour Republican is mistaken when it states that Thursday has been set aside as Seymour day. Friday is the day on which we will make special efforts to entertain citizens from the original street fair city of Southern Indiana, and we're going to entertain em royally, too.—Washington Democrat.

Santiago Daily Paper.

Geo. F. Beckman has received a copy of the Santiago de Cuba Times, which is said to be the first American daily paper published in Cuba. It is a four column folio and is very well edited and printed. The paper is independent and is a business venture on the part of the publishers. It is full of interesting reading matter.

The State Fair managers have arranged for an interesting night program during the fair. The great fireworks king will present the interesting features of the program, the Battle of Manila, as well as a great display of fireworks. The buildings will be lighted and those of our people who attend will get the full day's program, as well as the evening display, for one admission.

A CRITICAL TIME

DURING THE BATTLE OF SAN TIAGO.

Sick or Well: a Rush Night and Day.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all heroes. Their heroic efforts in getting ammunition and rations to the front saved the day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago, De Cuba, on July 23d, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect savior of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our packtrain before we left Tampa and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

FREETOWNS.

Charlie Maupin, of Acton, is visiting his father, Rev. Maupin.

Rev. Maupin has returned home from his visit in and about Indianapolis.

Parties from here who attended the K. of P. encampment at Indianapolis report a good time.

Quite a number of G. A. R. men contemplate attending the encampment at Cincinnati next week.

Seth and Fer. Nichol, of Columbus Ohio, who attended the funeral of Dr. Chute, returned home last Friday.

The Sunday school convention is now in session at the M. E. church here and quite a large number of delegates are present.

Dr. Geo. H. Chute, an old and much esteemed physician of Freetown, after a lingering illness died August 25, 1898, in his 73d year. He was born in Washington county, Ohio, June 28, 1825. Was united in marriage to Mary J. Nichol December 14, 1848. Six children were born to them, three of whom are yet living. He expressed a willingness to die and had no fears of death. The bereaved family has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. The widow and children request us to say that they extend thanks to all who so kindly assisted in caring for him and that their kindness will ever be remembered.

The new cemetery was staked off last Monday and will be fenced off in the near future.

While at Honeytown last week we had a pleasant chat with the Hummer, who is in the saw mill business to win.

Otto Kenner, who was severely hurt while at work on the Southern Indiana railroad two weeks ago, is at home and doing well.

We are under obligations to the wide awake Waskom correspondent for favors extended while taking subscriptions in that vicinity.

About 25 of Miss Daisy Hays' young friends surprised her last Saturday evening and reminded her that her 17th birthday had rolled around. Good music added to the pleasure of the occasion.

SPEAKING PASSING SHIPS.

New Efforts to Revive Old Time Courtsies at Sea.

The fine old custom of speaking passing ships is rapidly dying out among the skippers of today, and the general opinion seems to be that the modern master is, as a rule, too busy going to bother about anything of the sort.

Colonel Hozier, the secretary of Lloyds, considers that a deal of trouble and anxiety would often be avoided if captains would but take the trouble to speak ships within reading distance of their signals. In many instances anxiety with respect to overdue vessels would be allayed, and, furthermore, there would continually be news for the friends of masters and for the hundreds of thousands of others who are interested in the great merchant marine of this country.

Chatting the matter over, Captain Froude, the secretary of the Shipmasters' society, said: "The practice of speaking each other at sea and reporting at every opportunity is, I am sorry to say, dying out among the captains of the present day. I suppose they are indifferent, or careless, and do not consider it worth the trouble of hoisting the signals and making out the other fellow's. It is a very great pity that an exceedingly useful custom should be neglected, and I am glad to learn that Colonel Hozier is doing his utmost to induce masters to speak other ships and to report whenever it is possible."

"I am convinced that if captains can be persuaded to take the trouble to do this much good service will be rendered to the public generally. This society is doing its utmost to get masters to revive the practice."

Captain Froude's appeal was strengthened by the picturesque evidence of an old time skipper, who admitted that speaking and signaling had been almost entirely neglected of late years. "When I first went to sea," he said, "it was the invariable custom to exchange names and destinations and sometimes remarks with passing ships, but nowadays captains don't bother. Sometimes a skipper is short handed and he won't take even one man from his work, but mostly he doesn't bother himself about the thing at all. That's my experience, and I've been at the game a week or two."—London Mail.

His Resources.

Judge Ermonston tells a good story about a man he was questioning as to his being good to go on a $600 bond.

"What property have you to the amount of $600?" asked the judge.

"I have $200 in a building association," replied the witness.

"Well, and what more?"

"I have stock in trade to the amount of $300."

"Go on."

"I have household furniture worth $90."

"Well, we still want $10."

"I have your note, judge, for that amount, which you gave me seven years ago at College Corner."

THE CARE FREE VIENNESE.

They Rarely Take Life Seriously Unless at a Funeral.

"The native Viennese is a jolly, good natured, shifless creature," writes Edward A. Steiner, discussing "Austria and Her Troubles" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"No people on the earth are so jolly or so easily and so much amused. Go to the Frater, the largest public park in Europe, and from 100 different beer gardens comes the noise of rattling brass bands and stamping feet and beating drums. Merry go rounds swing old and young, and dime museums and music halls are as full of people as they are empty of decency. Go to the theaters on any night and you will find them crowded by an enthusiastic audience, the galleries filled by noisy students and working girls. The court theaters, which present only legitimate dramas and operas, have also their numerous devotees. Go to the coffee houses, of which there is one on every corner, and you will find them full, especially in the afternoon, with merchants with their noses in the newspapers and clerks sipping their Mocha and officers snuffing their cigars and one pushing and card shuffling youths. At night these coffee houses become the rendezvous of the lower element. I have never seen the Viennese serious, unless it be at a funeral, and I suppose that even out of that he manages to get some fun. Yet he is easily excited, and although loyal and law abiding his good nature may quickly turn into a fiery passion, and a Viennese riot is a serious matter for the police."

The Real Difficulty.

"The trouble with you," said Mr. Ruffedge's wife, after a warm debate, "is that you are a confirmed dyspeptic." "No, my dear," was the answer. "That's not correct. The trouble with me is that I am a contradicted dyspeptic."—Washington Star.

Harbor Mistress Fuller.

Miss Fuller, a newspaper woman, has lately been appointed harbor mistress of Tacoma, Wash. It is said that thus far she has done remarkably good work, keeping all records pertaining to the extensive shipping business of the city in perfect shape. Last month she made out the harbor master's report for the year, the first report of the kind ever made out by an American woman.

THE DREADED BACK DRAFT.

One of the Worst Perils That Confront the Fireman.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Perils of a Fireman's Life," by Charles T. Hill, who has written several articles on the New York fire department for this magazine. Mr. Hill says:

Next to a dangerous cellar fire nothing is more dreaded by the men than what is known in their own language as the "back draft." This is a sudden veering of the flames, usually caused by the burning away of some portion of the building that gives the fire renewed draft and changes its course completely.

The firemen arrive and find the whole second or third floor of a building in flames. Axes in hand, they smash open the doors, and with the hose dash up the stairway. This is all a-fire, and the flames are rolling above like a red pall. With the engine at work and good pressure on the line, the battle between the two elements, fire and water, begins. Inch by inch the men fight their way up the stairway, now to retreat as the fire gains upon them and now to advance as it rolls away for a moment. The encouraging words of the commanding officer are heard behind them urging them on: "Now, get in, boys! That's it—get in—get in! Make the next landing! Hit it up, boys!" and all the other words of encouragement that he usually gives.

They finally reach the landing. They are on the floor with the fire. It rolls away from them. They drive it farther back. Encouraged by their seeming victory, they drag up more of the heavy hose to make a final dash at it, when suddenly something falls in at the rear of the fire that gives it renewed draft. It rolls toward them, an impenetrable wall of fire—the deadly back draft! Their only chance of escape is to throw themselves upon their faces, in hope that it may roll over them, or to hurl themselves down the stairs up which they have so gallantly fought their way. Better a broken leg or arm than death by roasting, and the water of 50 engines could never stay the progress of that awful wave of flame.

Many a brave fellow has lost his life in this manner, and very often all the members of a company return with their eyebrows, hair and beard singed off, bearing evidence that they have been "ketch'd," as they express it, by a less terrible form of this deadly draft.

VILLAGE ODDITIES.

English Towns Distinguished For Being One of a Kind.

Undoubtedly the most extraordinary township in England is that of Skidaw, in Cumberland. It contains but one house, the occupier of which is unable to exercise the Briton's privilege of voting because there is no church or other place of worship or assembly on which to publish one.

The most remote village in England is that of Farley-cum-Piton. This truly rural spot is 30½ miles from the nearest railway station. As a contrast to this may be mentioned the hamlet of Ystrad, about 10 miles from Cardiff. This tiny settlement possesses two important main roads, two railways and two large rivers.

A very unique feature is exclusively claimed by Trimley, a small village in Suffolk. In the one churchyard of the parish two churches are to be seen. Service is conducted three times a week in each of these churches at the same hour. The deepest well in England is found at Hamilton, in Hampshire. It stretches 350 feet below the surface of the earth. About half way down this well shaft is a subway, three miles in length, which leads to the seacoast.

On the top of the parish church tower in Bicknoller, Somersetshire, is a yew tree, now five feet high and still growing in a hardy fashion. It is generally believed that the tree owes its origin to a seed dropped by a bird.

Perhaps the most splendidly decorated church in the kingdom is that of Whitley Court, Worcestershire. It is entirely constructed of white marble, the pews are chastely carved, and the pulpit is of genuine Carrara marble, richly paneled with precious stones.

On the village green at Meriden, in Warwickshire, there is a large stone cross which is supposed to mark the central point of England.—Pearson's Magazine.

A Peculiar Feeling.

The sensation of homesickness has been variously described, but never more graphically than by a little girl who, miles away from home and mamma, sat heavily eyed and silent at a hotel table. "Aren't you hungry, dear?" asked her aunt, with whom she was traveling.

"No."

"Does your head ache?"

"No."

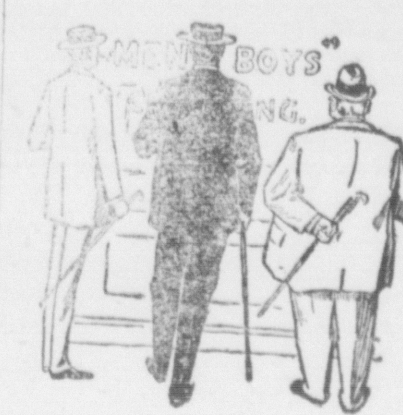

"What is the matter?"

The child's lip quivered, and she said in a tone to grieve the heart: "I'm seasick for home."—National Farmer.

The Fat Man

Whose healthy plumpness stands out unpleasantly in ready made garments, too tight here, too loose there, can be made to look much slimmer if he has his clothes made especially for him. The same thing applies to the short man and the lean man. It may seem a small matter, but it makes a great deal of difference in a man's appearance whether his clothes were made for him or whether they were made to fit the average. If he's the average—the fit him—if he's not, they don't.

We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for many years and bear cheerful testimony to its value as a medicine which should be in every family. In coughs and colds we have found it to be efficacious and in croup and whooping cough in children we deem it indispensable.—H. P. Ritter 9126 Fairfax ave., St. Louis Mo. For sale by C. W. Milhous.
